

Method	Summary
Random	Randomly selects variants without replacement.
Diversity	Iteratively selects variants that are farthest from the already selected set using normalized Hamming distance.
K-means default	Uses standard K-means with Euclidean distance; samples by alternating between clusters and preserves the original order inside each cluster.
K-means Hamming	Uses standard K-means with Euclidean distance; samples by alternating between clusters and orders variants inside each cluster by Hamming diversity.